This Danish premium brand has been designing children's clothing since 1993. The brand was founded by Karin Brandt, who still owns and runs the business from the office in Charlottenlund. With training from Kolding's School of Design and La Chambre Syndicale de la Haute Couture Parisienne, the founder has a strong professional design background and aesthetics, and it was this that drove her when, in the early 90s, she had to prove that nice, classic flight suits for children were in short supply. Outerwear is a big investment for families with children, and therefore good quality is essential, but in the owner's universe, quality can be combined with classic neatness and high aesthetics. And then you can always add a funny hat or a few colorful bras. With the vision for its products in place, this brand became a reality, and what started as one-off productions for one's own children quickly spread to the circle of friends and soon there was demand from near and far. Production initially took place in sewing rooms in Copenhagen and then North Jutland, but as interest grew, it became important to seek production partners outside the country's borders with greater capacity as well as more experience and expertise in technical outerwear to ensure the highest possible quality. Today, this Danish brand continues to be run on the basis of the well-known strong design profile and responsible principles regarding production conditions and quality – to the delight of even more children and their families.	Outerwear	Small orders - depending on what the supplier can offer, 20 styles but can also settle for say 2. e.g. some of the down production, they have repeating styles - now they have 20 different down styles, same fabrics year after year, they use the same colours one year at a time (advantage for the supplier), 98 of the styles are recurring	Ski down jacket without fur: $45 cost price - high quality is very important and sustainability - eco tex certified fabrics also recycled fabrics could be interesting	Luxury	January / August	Longterm relationship and many repeat styles	Yes	Down coats, jackets, down manufacturers, down snow suits, baby snow suits, baby jackets, adult and children jackets, coats, baby sleeping bags, summer down jackets.
